

• The BSP plants in Juárez and Querétaro are awarded the ESR badge for socially responsible companies.
• BSP is ranked by S&P Global Corporate and Government in the 2018 list of best places to work.

Global Justice, October, June 27, 2018 - Each of the three BSP manufacturing plants in Mexico has received the Socially Responsible Company (SRC) badge and is ranked in the list of Super Companies 2018 based on employee feedback collected by Top Companies and Expansion magazine. These accolades reflect BSP's commitment to the welfare of its workers and the communities where it operates.

BSP receives ESR badge
BSP's three Mexican plants have received the ESR badge for socially responsible companies awarded by the Mexican Center for Philanthropy, A.C. (Cemefi). The award was presented to BSP at the 61 Latin American Meeting of Socially Responsible Companies, it is the 10th consecutive year that the plants in Ciudad Juárez, where we manufacture our Aho side-by-side vehicles, have received this distinction, and the second consecutive year for the plant in Querétaro, which produces the Eco-Drive model.

BSP was recognized for its various initiatives to reduce its social and environmental impact across the three sites, which employ 8,000 people in both Juárez area and 2,800 in Querétaro. These include implementing ongoing recycling, engaging support activities for charity organizations, and providing services to the community, such as transport to and from the plant and online childcare.

BSP ranked in Super Companies 2018 list
The Super Companies is conducted by Top Companies and Expansion, ranked BSP no. 28 among companies of more than 1,000 employees where "everyone wants to work". The list is compiled based on employees answering direct, personal and confidential surveys, carried out during the months of October and November 2017.

This year, there are 700 companies in the "Wanted Employer" list, divided into three categories: up to 500 employees, between 500 and 1,000, and more than 1,000 employees. The list is produced annually, and headed by P&G, Apple, Top Companies and Expansion are ranked in between performance and the degree and strengthening of organizational culture.

The list is prepared by the magazine "Wanted Employer" and "Wanted Employer" and "Wanted Employer" magazine. The employees are considered as one of the most sought after and are committed to their companies in which they operate. Having these awards serves as an incentive to keep doing more better!
